READ IT CAREFULLY

The attention of our readers is especially called to the story on another page from the pen of our former townsman, Nelson C. Burch, entitled "The French River Queen, Throned by the Soft-Flowing Somme." It is replete with interest as regards the battlefields of France, and though you may read it ever so carefully, yet, if we are not mistaken, you will turn back and read it again. Friend Burch, accept our thanks for your contribution. (Editor.)

"THE BEST BIG SISTER IN THE WORLD"

Submitted in the Y. W. C. A. slogan contest by Mrs. J. T. Lemos of San Francisco, this slogan, has been unanimously selected as the best of many hundreds sent in by contestants in all parts of the eight states under the jurisdiction of the western department of the Y. W. C. A.

The task of the judges was no easy one. Many clever slogans were submitted, expressing briefly and vividly the relation of the Y. W. C. A. to the welfare of the thousands of women and girls engaged in the manufacture of munitions and a variety of other war industries in the United States and overseas.

Through the medium of posters and other methods of exploitation, the winning slogan will be extensively used in connection with the educational campaign being made by the Y. W. C. A. preliminary to a drive for war work funds in conjunction with the Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, the Salvation Army, and the American Library Association.

The K. OF C. HUT

By request of Father O'Neill, of the Holy Family Catholic Church, we are publishing the following verses from the pen of James G. Keenan, which originally appeared in the Boston Post:

Everyone is welcome,
And everything is free;
The door is never fastened—
We have thrown away the key.
If you're fighting for the Allies,
On land or on the sea,
You're a lad who's always welcome
'Neath the letters "K. of C."

Your birthplace doesn't matter—
Britain, France or Italy,
U. S. A. or any other
Of the allied Twenty-three—
It's enough that you are fighting,
That the whole world may be free,
And we're proud to have you enter
'Neath the letters "K. of C."
The creed that you're professing
Is a subject that will be
Taboo beyond the threshold of the hut marked "K. of C."
There is no discrimination,
And there never is a fee;
Everyone is welcome,
And everything is free.

THE FRENCH RIVER QUEEN

THRONED ON THE SOFT-FLOWING SOMME

BY Nelson C. Burch

AMERICAN valor in northern France has won for us a deeper interest than that of mere curiosity in its ancient cities, castles, cathedrals and battlefields—a kind of partnership in the memories of them, historical and traditional. It is not presumable, though, that our boys "over there" permit themselves to pause in their onward sweep to Berlin and reflect, as we may here in the peace and security of the country where their "home fires are kept burning"—that Amiens is the cradle of the French nation; that the site of its great cathedral was once the garden of an ancient Roman senator and is over the tomb of the first Christian messenger and martyr to the pagans "over there" sixteen hundred years ago. The story is briefly summarized from Ruskin.

At the birth of Christ, tradition tells us, the inhabitants of this beautiful region of France as well as all Germany and Britain, were dominated by druidic priests in their teachings and practices. In the three hundred years that followed, the gods of the Romans reached the ascendency. Then, to the banks of the Somme and the hillside of Amiens, on the 6th of the Ides of October, A. D. 301, came St. Firmin, the first Messenger of the Gospel of Jesus, to gain the crown and find the grave of a martyr in the garden of his disciple, a Roman Senator, on the very spot where the cathedral of Amiens, the first cathedral of French Christianity, was built and still stands—stands a miracle of preservation from destruction by the guns of German iconoclasts.

Nor is it probable that many of our boys "over there" will be reminded that Amiens is known to the past as the Venice of France; not divided by slow currents of an ebbing and flowing tide as is the Venice of the Adriatic, but by eleven beautiful trout streams, and styled "The French River-Queen" throned on the soft-flowing Somme. That here amidst the surrounding downs were taken the first footsteps of a barbarian tribe of Franks from somewhere beyond the Rhine in the founding of the French nation, fixing there its first capital and endowing it with the distinction of being the nation's birthplace and cradle. It was to Amiens on the banks of the Somme that Clovis brought his queen Clotilda to have their throne and hold their court. The Clovis who by a slight twist of the tongue is Louis (Louis I) the first king of the French nation, and the Clotilda who is its first Christian Queen, the tradition of whose life, love and devotion is the delight of every delver in the stories of the times when our ancestors were emerging from the thrall of paganism. It was from there that Clovis went forth to the battle of Soissons and there drove from his dominions the last of the legions of Rome. From there, too, he battled with a horde of wild Germans from the North, over whom, at Talbec, with "the help of Clotilda's God," he won a "famous victory" for himself and throne and a Christian's crown at Rhiems. Remarkable, isn't it, that the first and last battles for the life of the French nation should be with the hordes of Germany.

From a remote period those people of Picardy at Amiens have been famed as skilled workers in gold and glass, stone, wood and ivory, in dainty needlework and the weaving of fine linen. What guided the hands of these "producers of beauty," what it was in the soil of their dismal downs, to nourish and inspire their brains to conceive and give their hands the cunning to execute, downs equally dismal and uninspiring with those of his own homeland, was a marvel to Ruskin as it is to many another admirer of the products of their industry.

The ancient province of Picardy in the north of France of which Amiens was the capital, extended from Champagne on the east and the English Channel on the west, a principality within itself. It now forms the department of the Somme and portions of the departments of Aisne and Pas-de-Calais. Between this province of earlier days and the Rhine is the Alsace-Lorraine country, all of which from 1697 until 1871, belonged in undisputed possession to France, now a "bone of contention" in the geat war "over there" our boys are helping to fight and win. At the division of the empire of Charles the Great (Charlemagne), by the treaty of Verdun, August, 843, the province fell within the share of Charles the Bald, grandson of the great emperor. At Chateau-Thierry, a few miles from Amiens, Charles the Bald had his castle, since rebuilt by one of the kings of France, and a place of great interest to "tourists." It was by the treaty of France with England at Amiens in August, 1802, that Napoleon arose to eminence as the restorer of peace to the world and brought within his reach the title of Emperor, and with his battle with Blucher at Chatau-Thierry, February 12, 1814, the disappearance of the last ray of effulgence in the glitter of his crown of greatness. At this battle, Napoleon won a victory, but it was his last. It may be said that at Amiens and Chateau-Thierry occurred the culmination of Napoleon's dazzling career. From the one "he went up like a rocket," and at the other "he came down like a stick.'

In this connection it is not out of place to recall the great Napoleon's estimate of the good he was to the world: When First Consul of France, standing with one of his generals at the tomb of Rousseau, he said to his companion:

"It would have been better for the repose of France that this man had never been born."

"Why so?" queried his companion.

"It is he who prepared the French Revolution," was the reply.

"But, General," said his friend, "it is not for you to complain of the Revolution."

"Well," Napoleon replied, "the future will discover whether it was not better for the repose of the world that neither Rousseau nor I had been born."

Nor will what Napoleon thought of war here come in amiss:

In a letter to Emperor Francis, explaining why it was to Austria's interest to abandon England and become a friendly ally of France, Napoleon wrote:

"Let us have peace and quiet to the present generation. If future generations are foolish enough to fight, they will learn after a few years of warfare how to govern wisely and live in peace."

In the Times of September 27, last, is published a map of the American fighting front a few miles westerly from Verdun and not far from Amiens, on which is noted the location of another place of historic notoriety, the village of Varennes, situated just east of the Argonne Hills and not far from the frontier of France. It was here the ill-fated King and Queen of France, Louis XIV and Marie Antoinette, in their flight to escape from France and their tormentors of the French Revolution, at the dead of night, June 20, 1791, were captured and returned to their imprisonment in the Tuileries. As the story goes, they were disguised, the king as valet to the lady with whom he was traveling, the queen as a Russian lady of rank, but not sufficiently to escape detection by some sharp-eyed village Javert.

The city of Metz, to which our boys appear to be giving some attention just now, is another place near by of historic renown. It is celebrated for its tanneries, and is where the Germans sometimes go "to get their hides tanned."

Bardsdale, Cal., Sept 28, 1918.

YOUNG LADIES ORGANIZE SERVICE CLUB

The young ladies of Tropico have organized a "service club," whose purpose is to do or go wherever their services are required. The first meeting was held Tuesday night in the Red Cross rooms, with fifteen in attendance.

At the next meeting, Tuesday night at 7:30, officers will be elected and lunches served. The first service undertaken is to make a complete roster, containing the name of every Tropico boy who has joined the service. A cordial invitation is extended to all young ladies interested to attend these meetings.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon, who has charge of the "sugar permits" for this section, informs us that she has issued some five hundred. She is called on at all hours of the day and even night. This work, in connection with her other duties, is a big task, and contrary to many suppositions, is not a "pay" position. It is a strictly patriotic service with no salary.

N. P. BANKS POST BIRTHDAY

Although the years intervening since the autumn of 1894 have taken a heavy toll from among the original applicants for the charter of N. P. Banks Post G. A. R., the "esprit de corps" remains at the same high point as during the previous twenty-four years.

This was evident to the many friends, members of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the Women's Relief Corps, who gathered to celebrate the occasion at the G. A. R. hall Friday September 27th, and to congratulate the remaining charter members—Comrades B. F. Patterson, Thomas Gillette, George Sanford, W. B. Pratt, William Watson, Robert Taylor and J. B. Hickman.

Immediately after the meeting of the Post, the festivities began with a dinner of the kind that has made the Women's Relief Corps noted in Patriotic circles. Exceptional care in selection and supervision rendered this effort both pleasing and satisfying to the hundred and ten diners who partook of the repast.

Following the dinner, a program of unusual merit was presented, under the direction of Commander C. H. Clark. After all had joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" the audience was favored by readings by Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore, and the manner in which they were received left no doubt in the mind of anyone that Mrs. Moore has won a place in the hearts of the N. P. Banks family. She was followed by Mrs. George Herald, wife of Glendale's Chief of Police, who rendered in a sweetly pleasing soprano several ballads of the long ago. Mrs. Herald's rendition of "Sweet Genevieve" caused many an old eye to grow dim and many a heart to throb faster.

Patriotism, pure and unadulterated, was the theme of Mrs. Buelow, the next number on the program. She spoke in no uncertain terms of the difficulties experienced in the teaching of patriotism in the twenty years prior to the entrance of the United States into the world war. Her lot having been cast in sections of the country where love of country was not given the serious consideration it demands, it required unceasing activity to promulgate the doctrines of liberty and equality. Mrs. Buelow is at present the Department President of the Women's Relief Corps of the State of Texas.

Concluding the program, Commander Clark recited by request the patriotic poem, "The Service Star."

A framed engraving of President Woodrow Wilson was presented to the Post by Mrs. Flora M. Pixley, Past President of the Corps, the donor being Mrs. Jennie Phillips.

Another presentation was that of a portrait of Comrade B. F. Patterson, the "father of the Post," by Mrs. Adelaide Imler, also a Past President of the Corps.

The closing event of the day was the cutting of the birthday cake, an elaborate pyramid of sweetness bedecked with twenty-four red, white and blue candles, the handiwork of Mrs. Jennie Phillips. This ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Louise Purnell, President of the Women's Relief Corps, in her usual pleasing manner.

Among the out-of-town visitors were: Mrs. Buelow, of Houston, Texas; Mrs. Kincaid, of Oakland; Mrs. Mosher, President of Vicksburg W. R. C., of Pomona; Mrs. Starmouth, of Pomona; Martha Chapin, of Robley Evans W. R. C., of Los Angeles; Josephine Galbraith, President of the Auxiliary of the Southern California Veterans' Association, and several G. A. R. members from the Los Angeles posts.

CAPTAIN E. H. THOMPSON

Dr. E. H. Thompson, who applied some time ago to enter the medical department of the United States Army, received a telegram Tuesday of this week informing him that he had been given a commission as captain, and that he must report at Camp Kearny on October 16th. The telegram stated that he would be stationed at a base hospital, and, for the present, at least, he will be an instructor.

WILL YOU HELP OUR BOYS ABROAD?

Every Man, Woman and Child Can Join to Send News of This Town Into the Front Line Trenches.

WHOLE NATION MOVES TO BANISH SOLITUDE

Our Heroes Are Calling From Over There—Give What You Can to Help Those From Home.

Every citizen interested in the boys of his home town now at the front, and in the brave women who equally are serving their country abroad, has an opportunity to show his appreciation of the sacrifice they are making. The opportunity comes as a result of the generosity and thought of Colonel William Boyce Thompson of New York, who has conceived and put into execution what is known as the Home Paper Service.

Under the plan, every man and woman in foreign service will receive the town newspaper, and so be kept in constant touch with the places and the people they know and love.

Every branch of the United States Government is interested in the plan. The Government realizes the importance of keeping those in the service happy and constantly in touch with their home ties and associations. Nothing is more depressing in a national emergency than the spirit of loneliness in those serving their country, and officials know that nothing can dispel this feeling more effectually than reading the home town newspaper.

Publishers of newspapers in all parts of the country—this newspaper included—have grasped with pleasure the plan outlined by Colonel Thompson, and they have agreed to co-operate in every way.

Under the ruling of the War Industries Board newspaper publishers are forbidden to send their newspapers free, even to soldiers. The newspaper must be subscribed for in the regular way, the only exception being soldiers who formerly were in the employ of the newspaper and who left that service to enlist. Colonel Thompson therefore proposes that the public in each community contribute to a fund so that the home newspaper (in our case this newspaper) may reach every man and woman now in the service of his country.

Anyone may contribute to the fund, and any sum may be contributed. It is not necessary to contribute the entire amount of one subscription. It does not matter whether the rich man sends in one hundred dollars or the poor boy or little girl sends in five cents. Each gift will be a message of love and helpfulness to the home town folks "Over There." The money will be lumped into one fund, out of which subscriptions will be entered as fast as the money is received.

Contributors who send in the full price of a year's subscription may, if they wish, designate to what particular person they wish the newspaper sent, but if the name given is already listed as receiving the paper, then the publisher reserves the right to apply the subscription to some less fortunate sol-

Turkish Rugs and Mahogany Furniture are not a safeguard to wives, daughters and sisters against depravity

During the twenty-six years I have been fighting the Dental Trust, I have been accused by the ethicals of nearly everything from malpractice to manslaughter, but never until now have I been accused of being instrumental in raising dental prices.

the true facts, and is apparently made without sufficient knowledge of the amendment, or with deliberate intent to mislead the voter.

Dental Amendment No. 21 does not require any dentist to employ a nurse. It states plainly that when an anesthetic is used an adult third person must be present. That third person may be a friend, relative or any other available person.

Is there a mother, father, husband or brother who would say this requirement is not a needful safeguard?

To cherish the virtue of our girls and women, private wine rooms and boxes have been abolished by law from nearly every city in the United States. Yet persons under the influence of liquor can as well protect themselves as those under the influence of an anesthetic.

The dentist who objects to an adult third person being present when an anesthetic is given is not a safe person in whose care wives, daughters and sisters may be trusted, and yet we find the Dental Association, aided by Dean Millberry, openly opposing this particular clause in the Dental Amendment. Lies about raising dental prices do not answer or satisfy the people of California who put this amendment upon the ballot. It is up to Dean Millberry and these associates to explain.

If Dean Millberry does not stand for morality, he is not a fit person to direct the destinies of our young men in our foremost university, and he is not a fit man to draw a salary paid by the taxpayers of California.

It is up to you, Dean Millberry, to see that this shameful campaign of lying and misrepresentation to defeat a good measure is stopped, and stopped at once.

The people should know the truth about Dental Amendment 21.

dier boy or noble woman who is just as lonely for news of home and home folks.

The name of every contributor to this home paper service will be published in this newspaper, and the name of everyone entered for a subscription will be published as well as the number of those remaining whose subscriptions have not been covered.

If the amount of money received shall be more than is necessary to send the paper to every person from the town now in the service, then the balance will be turned over to the Red Cross.

The plan is endorsed by the publisher of this newspaper without any thought of profit, either directly or indirectly, but with a sincere desire to help keep the home fires burning and to send to our heroes and heroines news of our town, to keep their hearts warm for us and to let them know they are constantly in our minds.

The publisher, of course, cannot make a profit on circulation, and additional circulation such as this will be—circulation from non-purchasers sent far across the sea—can have no added value to the advertiser.

These facts are stated so that every contributor may feel that every cent contributed goes to the good cause.

TAKES OVER TELEPHONE SYSTEM

On Tuesday the final arrangements for the consolidation of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Home Telephone Company of this city were completed. Mr. Fred Deal, manager of the Pacific Telephone Company for Glendale, will still remain the manager for the consolidation.

Mr. Deal states that for the present there will be no change in the service of the consolidated companies. The change will take place probably when the telephone company moves into its newly erected business block on South Brand Boulevard. It is contemplated that the removal to the new building will be before the new year, possibly some time in November.

As an institution or business in this city which shows the rapidity in growth from a small town to a respectable sized city which has so many advantages as Glendale, the Pacific Telephone Company stands foremost. It has grown from a company having a handful of subscribers to now having 2400, and its pro rata of growth as reported by the Semi-Annual Telephone Bulletin nearly every time puts Glendale the highest in rank, compared to other cities of California of the same size.

A VISIT FROM HOOVER

Ever since Food Administrator Herbert Hoover returned from the Allied conference in Europe, the Government has been planning how best to get the facts gathered from his visit before the people of our United States.

A number of able speakers have been selected who will tour our country, speaking at all towns of any importance, and delivering the message Hoover gives to them for us.

The itinerary for California was arranged by Ralph W. Merritt and the local food commissioner of each town notified of their date. Glendale's date is October 8th, at 3:00 p. m., at the High School Auditorium.

The local food commission has been trying for a week to get this date changed because of the reception at the Tuesday Afternoon Club at that hour. So far she has not been successful.

The subject will be "Food Conditions of our Allied Countries, and What Must America Do." As this will mean much to us as householders and patriots, it is hoped that the auditorium will be filled at that time.

America has been asked to furnish Europe 29,000,000 tons of food this year, and if you have any doubt of the necessity, be present. It is not what we have to give, but what can we voluntarily give.

MRS. C. E. HUTCHINSON,
Woman Director of Food Conservation.

PROCEEDINGS OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees assembled in regular session, October 4, 1918, at 8 p. m., all members present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Chairman, Noticing the fact that there was a large number of citizens present, stated that the Board is always glad to have the people present themselves in the Council Chamber and make their wants known, and invited any one who had anything to bring before the Board to do so at this time.

Mr. C. D. Thom addressed the Board and presented a petition signed by 344 citizens of Glendale, stating that this petition represented the large majority of the business men of the City; the petition asking for the abolition of the office of City Manager, owing to the necessity that exists on account of the war for the practice of economy in every direction in Municipal affairs.

Mr. Ezra Parker in a few words stated that he did not want his presence at the meeting to be considered as indicating his sympathy with the object of the petition. On the contrary, he believed that it is not the desire of the majority of the business men or of the citizens of Glendale that the city take a step backward, which in his opinion it will be doing if the petition is granted. He further stated that he would be glad if time is given, and it seems necessary to do so to see that the trustees are presented with evidence of the truth of his statement.

Trustee Muhleman made a motion, which was not seconded, that a committee consisting of five men who support the petition and five who are opposed to it be selected to meet with the Board of Trustees and discuss the situation.

Trustee Shaw made a motion, which was not seconded, that the petition be referred to the committee as a whole.

Trustee Henry made a motion, which was not seconded, that the office of City Manager be declared vacant.

City Manager Watson stated that he is willing to resign his position if a single member of the Board of Trustees desires it, as much as he is averse to retiring under fire. He therefore desired that his resignation be considered as filed with the Clerk of the Board.

Trustee Henry stated that while personally he is very friendly to the City Manager, he believed that to take the action called for by his motion would result in greater harmony among our citizens.

Mr. F. H. Vesper spoke in opposition to the object of the petition, stating that it is a well-known fact that a petition circulated on the streets of Glendale for any purpose whatever can secure a large number of signers; he did not believe therefore that the majority of the citizens were properly represented in the petition.

The Chairman made a statement in support of the City Manager declaring that he had for the present fiscal year reduced the expenses of the City Government, and therefore saved to the taxpayers much more than his salary for the year would amount to. He believed that many of the signatures appeared on the petition through a misunderstanding of the situation.

Mr. C. S. Davis spoke briefly in favor of the City Manager.

This ended the discussion, and the petition was received and placed on file.

A communication was read from the County Council of Defense Building Section, Los Angeles, R. W. Pridham, chairman, enclosing a copy of circular number 21 issued by the Priorities Committee of the War Industries Board. The communication was in reference to issuing permits for the buildings and asking that the city authorities co-operate with the County Council in the matter. The communication was received and filed.

An application was presented from Hugh Cornwell for permission to hunt within the city limits. On motion of Trustee Henry, permission was granted, confined to Verdugo Canyon and vicinity.

An application was received from Wm. A. Burns for permission to do street work by private contract; the work consisting of a cement sidewalk five feet in width along the easterly side of Verdugo Road, south of Second Street. The application, being approved by the City Engineer, was, on motion, granted.

The City Recorder filed his report for the month of September, showing the total receipts of his department to be $156.00.

The Manager of the Public Service Department made a report as to the valuation of the light plant in the Tropico District, and in this connection the following resolution was presented by Trustee Shaw and adopted:

"That the City Attorney and the President of this Board be authorized and directed to sign and file a joint application with the Southern California Edison Company to the Railroad Commission for authority for the city to buy the system of said company used in supplying electricity to Municipal Improvement District No. 2, for the sum of $34,611.19, plus the cost of extensions made since August 31, 1918."

On motion of Trustee Shaw, the Manager of the Public Service Department was instructed to arrange the five light standards on the city streets so that it will be possible to use one light only. The motion was seconded by Trustee Muhleman and adopted. The Manager of the Public Service Department reported that lights had been installed on the High School grounds in accordance with instructions given him at the last meeting.

The City Attorney made a report regarding local fares over the Pacific Electric lines in Glendale. A motion made by Trustee Muhleman was adopted, instructing the City Attorney to urge before the Railroad Commission the adoption of five-cent fares within the limits of Glendale.

The Chairman of the Board called the attention of the Trustees to the matter of changes in street names in the Verdugo Canyon District without the authority of the Board. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the matter was ordered to be investigated and reported upon by the Street Superintendent.

The City attorney having prepared an ordinance amending Ordinance No. 201, the same was presented to the Board by Trustee Shaw.

Trustee Henry made a motion which was adopted, that the City Marshall be instructed to notify citizens who have not done so to put up the correct street numbers upon their premises.

THREE DAYS OF CARNIVAL

On October 4, 5 and 6 (Friday, Saturday and Sunday), Venice will stage a three-day carnival that promises plenty of entertainment for its patrons. Friday night the opening of the carnival will be loudly proclaimed with a battery of bombs, a parade along the Ocean Front walk, plenty of red and green fire, bands of music, special dancing acts and the opening of the Italian Bazaar and '49 camp on the pier.

On Saturday the Domino and Yama Yama girls will be the center of attraction, serpentine and confetti battles, balloon showers, free souvenirs at the dance pavilion, the Hawaiian Troupe at the band plaza, joker bands and funny clowns will keep the fun at a high pitch. The '49 camp will have some new features and a special grand opera trio will be presented at 10 o'clock in the evening.

Sunday will have many delightful events, starting from the band concert at 2:30 and continuing through until midnight. The night sea battle at 9 o'clock promises to outdo all of the spectular events that Venice has staged in the past. A big submarine, two torpedo boats, two aeroplanes, land batteries and a cruiser will engage in a regular sea fight off the Venice Pier. The fight will be a continuous succession of flashing projectiles, bombs and mortars, ending with the blowing up and sinking of the submarine.

Three gala days, a combination of comical comedy intermingled with some sterling mardi gras features that insures topnotch entertainment to our patrons.

AT THE PALACE GRAND

The program today at the Palace Grand features the incomparable little comedienne of the screen, Constance Talmadge, in the big comedy farce, "Sauce for the Goose." It is said that she surpasses her recent performances in "Good Night Paul" and "A Pair of Silk Stockings" in this new production. In addition to this there are also two special attractions, "Around the Clock with the Cookie," which, as the title indicates, is a portrayal of the life of the soldier boy in camp, and "How Charlie Capered the Kaiser," a Pat Sullivan cartoon masterpiece, to say nothing of the Paramount pictograph cartoons. Children's matinee at 2:30, evening shows promptly at 6:45 and 8:45.

For Sunday, a big production, Earl Derr Biggers' stage success, "Inside the Lines," will be shown, starring Lewis S. Stone, who played the part on the Broadway stage. It is the story of a British spy who daringly entered the German secret service, in order to learn the secrets of the Hun spy system. It is full of exciting situations, and has a delightful love story running through it. There will also be a good comedy, "Billy's Fortune." Matinee at 2:30. Two evening shows, 6:45 and 8:45.

The big attraction for Monday, October 7, is "Tinsel" featuring the famous Kitty Gordon, supported by Frank Mayo and Muriel Ostriche. The story is one of the best written by that famous writer of light fiction, Fred Jackson. There will also be a Paramount Pictograph and Bray cartoon comedy. Matinee starts at 2:30, evening shows at 7:00 and 8:45.

"Heart of the Wilds," a great Western story, adapted from the play "Pierre of the Plains," and starring Elsie Ferguson, is the principal offering for Tuesday. It is a story that shows all the romance and thrills of the lives of the great Canadian organization, the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. Also, there will be a Christie Comedy. Matinee at 2:30. Evening shows at 7:00 and 8:45.

On Wednesday, October 9, beautiful Lina Cavalieri may be seen in "A Woman of Impulse," picturing the experiences of a woman who, even though she loved her husband, had a fatal fascination for other men, that sometimes made trouble. Bruce's Wonder outdoor pictures will also be shown. Matinee at 2:30. Evening shows at 7:00 and 8:45.

For Thursday is offered a brand new war picture, just released, featuring the work of the Red Cross in France. Dorothy Dalton is the star of this picture, "Vive la France," and it is said to be the most realistic sensation of the year. This, remember, is also the date for the big Allied Official War Review, which is shown every Thursday. Matinee, as always, at 2:30, and two evening shows, at 7:00 and 8:45.

CALIFORNA LIBERTY FAIR

Headquarters for the California Liberty Fair have just been removed to Exposition Park. The activities that have marked the business administration in Central Park are now being transferred to Exposition grounds, where the thirty-nine buildings are nearing completion. Two departments, however, will remain. R. W. Pridham, director-general of the fair, will keep his headquarters in Central Park, and the Publicity department will remain in the nifty building that has attracted so much attention.

One of the big features connected with the fair was closed yesterday when arrangements were definitely made with Dorothy Schindler to produce the pageant play, "The Handwriting in the Heavens." This was written for the California Liberty Fair by Rev. Myrtle I. Hoagland. In the first part of this pageant play, the dramatic story of the days of Ancient Egypt is told. Joseph, the Hebrew dreamer, is shown among the Egyptians from the prophetic dreams of his boyhood through the years of adventure after he was sold to the Ishmaelites and brought as a slave to Egypt.

Preparations were begun yesterday for the production of an immense fireworks display which will be given under government supervision. Not an ounce of powder will be wasted, but the pyrotechnics will be such that only features of the world war will be brought into prominence, and only such fireworks used as cannot be turned into gun powder to be used against the Huns.

The military feature of the fair is to be one of the big attractions that have already been arranged. Word was received from San Francisco yesterday that the soldiers will be here on the morning of October 12, and the fair will be turned over to them, and in co-operation with the city police, the grounds will be made safe for the half million people expected.

Bob Weaver, chairman of the Athletic Committee, who is now in New York, in a dispatch to Director-General Pridham, declared there is interest in the fair as far back as the Atlantic Seaboard. He estimates that the attendance will be a record breaker. He expects to return this coming week, but in the meantime, W. B. Himrod, former Pomona long distance star, is in charge of the work at this end.

Two buildings will be devoted to the children for the playground and day nursery at the fair, which will be in charge of the Los Angeles Federation of Parent-Teachers' Associations, receipts from which will go to the Home Economics fund for the purchase of milk for the babies of the five day nurseries of the public school.

The headquarters building will contain a model made by the school children of the public schools. A cafeteria will be run in connection with the exhibit, the tables being placed under the shade of the big eucalyptus trees, providing a cool, comfortable place to eat and rest.

FARMERS KILL HUN STARVATION PLAN WITH BIG CROPS

Pinched by Own Hunger, German Watch American Wheat Flow in Plenty to the Allies

The soil, the two-fisted fighting men that spring from the soil, and the unconquerable determination of the Americans who till it, are beating the Germans.

Thrown back from his first rush across the Marne and held at Verdun by the valiant French, the Huns cast all the restraints of humanity and civilization to the winds and ushered in unrestricted submarine warfare with the boast that England would be starved in six months.

How nearly they approached success will form one of the most gloomy chapters in the world war history; how and why they failed, one of the most inspiring sections of the epic chronicle.

AMERICA SENDS FIGHTERS FOOD

True, British and American sea-dogs hunted the submarine; American shipbuilders launched fleets whose sheer numbers made it impossible for the Hun sub-sea terrors to sink all of them; British land conscription turned hundreds of thousands of acres of parks and hunting preserves into crop-producing areas; Hoover and American food economy saved millions of bushels of wheat and shiploads of meat for fighting men and civilians in France and England.

But in the last analysis it was the farm and the farmer of America that kept allied hosts on every Western front in plenty and added despair of victory to the pinch of hunger behind the Hun lines.

His bumper crops jolted hopes at Potsdam and Vienna as severely as his fighting sons jolted Teuton generals at Cantigny and along the Marne, since expectations of American crop failure were based with Germanic complacency on carefully plotted campaigns of propaganda and sabotage in the United States.

HUN AGENTS BURN CROPS

The general public is too little aware of the bitter battles the crop grower has had to fight to bring his wheat to harvest.

Burned barns, standing crops, harvesters and threshing machines were only a part of the widespread ruin planned by these fellows of Boy-Ed, Von Papen and von Bernstorff, and in too many instances their plots were successful. That more were not was due only to untiring vigilance which can never be relaxed while the war lasts.

New goals, not easy of attainment, are placed before the farmer through the plan for raising an army of five million Americans to crush Germany next year.

He will be further handicapped by the loss of hands to the army, and he must raise greater crops. Plans of the Department of Agriculture call for the increase of wheat acreage in the West by as much as 80 per cent.

NEW EFFORTS CALLED FOR

No one doubts that he will rise to the opportunity for service placed before him, any more than any one doubts that he will play his other parts in the perfectly co-ordinated fighting machine revealed when America turned as a nation to win the war.

Not the least of these parts was his participation in the financing of the battle, though previous history had written down much effort to finance the farmer.

Rural districts were uniformly more prompt than metropolitan areas in their response to the Third Liberty Loan. Honor flags first flew from country flagstaffs, and those with the greatest number of honor stripes likewise.

The Third Liberty Loan, the greatest financial achievement in the history of the United States, and therefore in the world, is to be perhaps doubly eclipsed by the Fourth Liberty Loan.

The part of the farmer probably will be as proud.

HEAR THIS CALL from OUR HOME TOWN BOYS OVER THERE

LETTERS from our boys in the trenches and from the women in canteen and other war work, all bring to us the same message—SEND US NEWS FROM HOME.

World news is all right, but OUR BOYS want NEWS OF THIS TOWN. They want the home newspaper. Publishers are prevented from sending their papers free to anyone, even boys in the service. Consequently a national movement has been started by Col. William Boyce Thompson of New York, who is acting as President of the Home Paper Service of America to give the boys what they are calling for. Every community is joining the movement. Let us see that our boys are not forgotten.

Send to the publisher of this newspaper whatever amount of money you can—5 cents or $50.00. We will publish a list each week of those contributing, and the amounts contributed.

Every cent received will be used to send this paper to our boys at the front. If at the end of the war, there is any surplus, it will be turned over to the local Red Cross Committee.

There is no profit in this to the publisher—even in normal times, subscriptions are not sold at a profit. With war prices prevailing, and the high rate of postage on papers sent to France, our cost will scarcely be covered by our full subscription price.

Remember that over in France, some brave soldier or sailor from this town—perhaps even some splendid woman working within sound of the guns—is depending on you to "KEEP THE HOME LOVE KINDLED."
